1963 bitterroot presents Ken Knoog & missoula county high school missoula, montana

Foreign countries promise excitement and romance to all. In high school, however, we become more aware of the realism and complexities of our international society. Approaching adulthood, we must learn to cope with worldly problems by understanding and respecting other people.

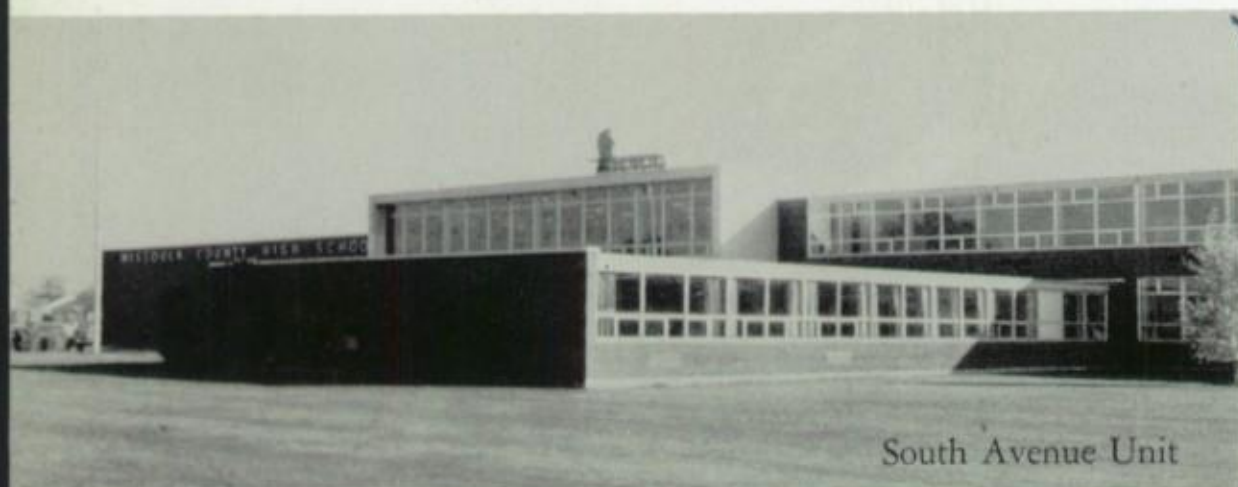

The idea of international understanding is furthered in many ways at Missoula County High School. Some of these are the social science courses, the language classes and clubs, the section of the library devoted to world literature, the chance to work with teachers who have traveled abroad, and the A.F.S. program, which sends students to various sections of the globe and brings foreign students to live and study with us.

Therefore, the 1962-63 BITTERROOT has been molded around an international theme; the art work portraying this concept.

Yours is the first generation of the "Global Age." For this reason, I feel that the International Theme of this year's BITTERROOT is particularly timely.

We Americans are the only people who can claim a truly international heritage, for how many of us are not of international ancestry? Far from creating the "mongrel" race which was predicted by European aristocrats during the early years of our country, our very diversity has proved to be our strength.

The American public school can claim much of the credit for the success of this great "melting pot." The tradition continues daily at M.C.H.S. as we welcome and come to know and love the foreign students who live and learn with us.

administration

Because our school is divided into two units, there is a vice-principal at each building to head student activities. Mr. James Adair, who assumed his position in September of 1962, works with the South Avenue students, while Mr. Mark Jennings continues his service at the Higgins Avenue Building for the third consecutive year. Mr. Winston Wetzel, principal, co-ordinates the activities of both buildings.

ACTIVITIES

This year the Senior Class Council led its class in several activities. To earn money, coffee and hot dogs were sold at home football games. The selling of Christmas cards was another major project.

The seniors produced the winning Silver Spartan Day float and sponsored Carol Lindborg, Silver Spartan Queen.

Besides planning the class assembly and banquet, the Senior Class Council also ordered graduation necessities.

freshman class officers and council

ACTIVITIES

The Freshman Class Council had no specific activities this year, as its main duty was to offer leadership to its class.

Because the Silver Spartan Day parade was scheduled before the election of Freshman class officers and the organization of the council, there was a lack of funds to build a float. Therefore, Wanda Garrin, class candidate for Silver Spartan Day Queen, and her attendants rode on a decorated convertible.

student association

The gavel resounds as another Student Council meeting gets under way. Subjects on the agenda range from routine committee reports to discussions on Student Council improvements. A great deal of leadership and coordination is needed to maintain an effective student government. Student Association officers provide these qualities and with the help of the Executive Board, direct the organization of student activities.

President Dave Barthelmess explains chain-of-command to new Student Council representatives.

Max Meltzer and Marjorie Hunt review accounts of Student Council proceedings in the recently innovated handbook.

"We cheer for Old Missoula High . . ." Vocal cords are put to good use as Pep Club and the varsity cheerleaders stage a typical noon pep rally. Pep Club members present skits which lack in dramatic excellence but abound in humor and satire.

If the winning records of the football, basketball and wrestling teams are any indication of school spirit, Pep Club has certainly achieved its purpose—"to generate, maintain and encourage school spirit."

Despite the rain, the annual Silver Spartan Day parade began at 4:00 Friday afternoon, October 12. Only one major change was made in the parade; that being the elimination of all club floats except one, which was the combined project of Student Council, Key Club, M Club, Girls' Club, and Pep Club. Besides this float, there were the usual class floats, the band, a truck carrying the Spartan team, and several marching groups.

A bonfire and snake dance to Dornblaser stadium preceded the Missoula-Anaconda game.

The crowning of senior queen candidate, Carol Lindborg, by Don Gray, Silver Spartan, highlighted the 21-0 game for the victorious Spartans and climaxed the day's events. Also at halftime, senior class president, Les Wollschlaeger, accepted the Pep Jug for the winning class float, "CENTURIES OF TRADITION—SPARTAN VICTORIES."

To end Silver Spartan Day, Pep Club sponsored a dance in the South Avenue gymnasium.

In the 1962 football season the Missoula Spartans, under the stimulating influence of their new head football coach Joe Roberts, managed to pull themselves up to second place in AA conference standings, thus terminating a four-year slump in Spartan football activity. They lost only one game to first-place Great Falls, in which the Bison chalked up 21 points against the scoreless Spartans.

Team spirit and organized effort were the keys to many of Missoula's triumphs. Moreover, the Spartans gained a moral victory in their 1962 football season because of the fact that their opponents collectively scored only 64 points in comparison to the Spartans' total of 175.

The Junior Varsity won three of four games, losing their last contest to Great Falls. This team shows great promise for a powerful varsity squad next season. Neither the Bombers nor the Freshmen lost a game.

It seems like winning the annual state wrestling championship has become a tradition with Jug Beck and his matmen; on March 2 in Miles City Missoula walked away with its fourth consecutive tournament crown and its sixth in the eight years in which wrestling has been a major high school sport in Montana. Furthermore, Missoula wrestlers snatched six of the twelve individual titles; three Spartans were runnersup in their weights, and two finished in fourth place.

Once again, the Missoula wrestling team was undefeated; in fact, Great Falls, their closest competition, was held to more than a two-to-one margin both times when the two schools met. The Spartans sought out Moses Lake and Shadle Park High School of Spokane, both top wrestling powers in Washington, in an effort to get some really tough action, but swept over both easily.

At the divisional meet in Helena, in which Missoula took eleven of twelve berths, Gene Davis was named Outstanding Wrestler; Davis has never been defeated and has taken four state wrestling crowns. Jim Quinn was named Outstanding Wrestler at the state tournament—he has also won three wrestling titles.

The Bombers, too, sailed through the season with no setbacks. Although a lot of good wrestlers will be lost through graduation, there are plenty of potential champions among the ranks of this year's Bombers.

Predicament?

One-hundred eighteen boys saw action this season in regulation bouts with other schools. This is approximately ten per cent of the total male population at MCHS.

Struggling for leverage

Warm-up

basketball

Piling up 22 straight victories, the 62-63 Spartans became the first MCHS basketball team to go through a season undefeated, and the first Montana high school team to do so since 1931. In addition, they broke MCHS records for points made in a single game, and field goal shooting percentages. One of the most striking features of this team was its ability to work smoothly as a unit—none of its members tried to steal the limelight.

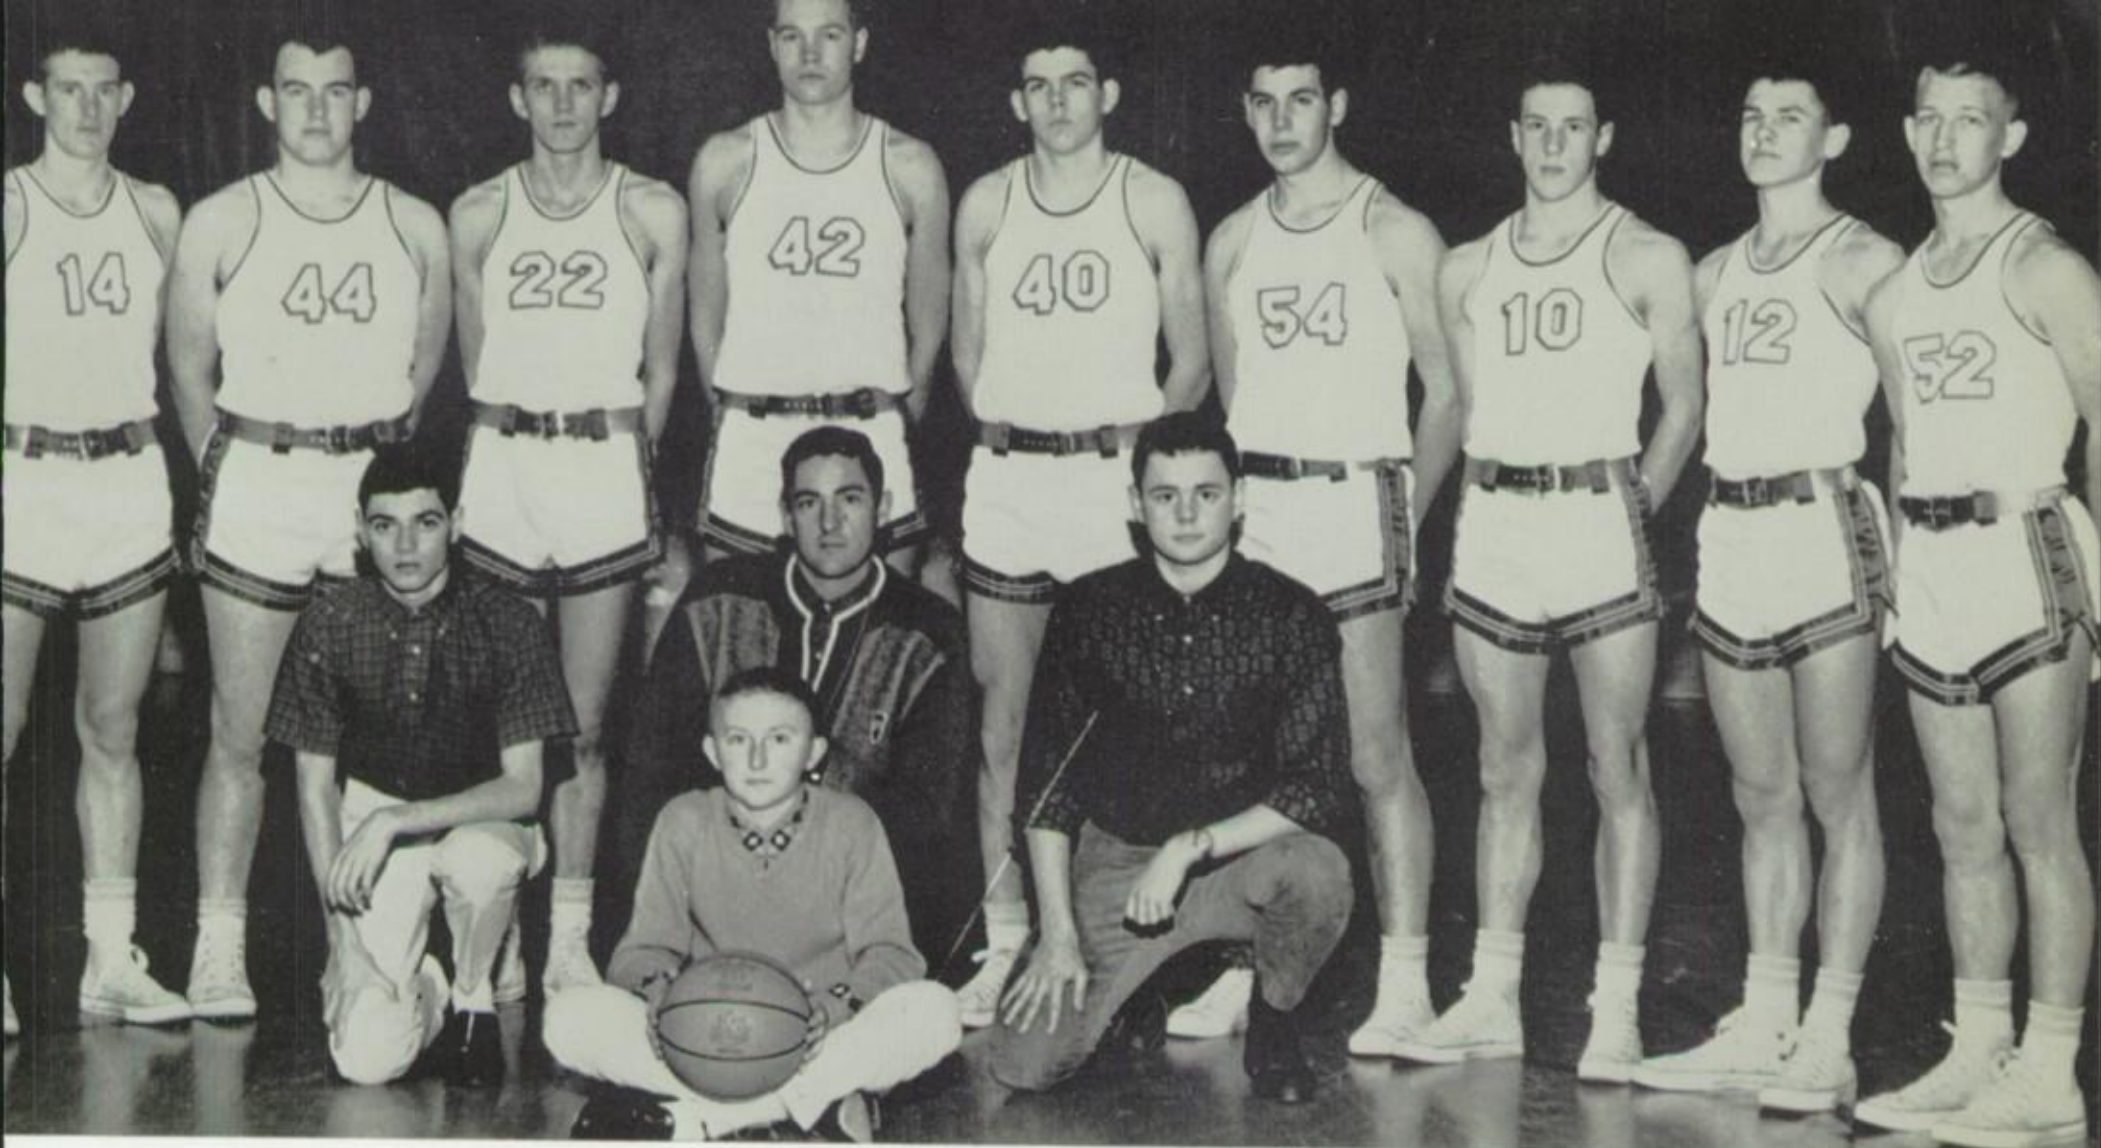

The biggest threat to the Spartans' untouched record came in January, when Missoula scraped by Great Falls 56-54. However, on their return call in the MSU Field House, the Bison suffered a merciless pounding from the Spartans and limped away with a 91-49 defeat. Another high point in the Spartan basketball season was a non-conference game with Sandpoint, Idaho, in February, in which Missoula scored 117 points to set a new high in MCHS scoring records. Amid the roar of several hundred cheering fans in Helena, the Spartans scrambled to a shaky victory over the Bengals and ended their season in a final burst of glory.

Broken team records included shooting 53 percent from the field, and averaging 77 points per game. Greg Hanson shot 59 percent from the field, and Mike Lewis made 412 rebounds, to shatter previous individual records.

The Bombers won 15 of 17 contests, with only one conference loss; they dropped their last game to the Helena "B" team, fighting all the way. This team should provide good material for a first-rate varsity squad next winter. The Freshman "A" team ended with an excellent 19-1 record, and the Freshman "B" team won 7 of their 10 games.

'the big game'

February 23 was a big night for the Spartans—not only were they out to scalp the Great Falls Bison in recompense of a tough game early in the season, but they could also clinch the AA Basketball conference title with a victory over Great Falls. The setting was the MSU Field House; a capacity crowd of nearly 7,000 fans was on hand to witness the gruesome slaughter.

Although they made a valiant attempt, the bewildered Bison were left standing in the wake of a fast Spartan power-drive. Within seconds after the game started, Missoula had strung up 6 points, and at the end of the first quarter enjoyed a decisive 23-13 lead.

The Spartans continued out-scoring Great Falls, sinking two baskets to every one they made, and finished the half with a 21-point spread. In the third quarter Missoula scored three times as many points as the Bison, limiting Great Falls to a meager 7 points while they bagged 20. With two minutes left in the game and a 44-point lead, Rocheleau pulled the starters out.

High-point man of the evening was Mike Lewis with 28 points, followed by Doug Bachman with 19 points, Greg Hanson with 18 points, Glenn Smith with 12 points, Larry Huggins with 6 points, and Ken Jones and Doug McDonald with 4 points apiece. The final score was Missoula 91, Great Falls 49.

Save 2 good, 2 be, 4 gotten

Janet

Well another year has come and gone. Just think only one more year of school left, and you won't be here for graduation. (you big nut) I'll always remember all the fun we've had, oh and the scraps too. I'm going to miss ya a lot next year, just think I won't have any body to fight with. You'll have to come back and see me some time, OK, during the summer or something.

If you go to San Diego this summer say Hi to Monty for me, OK

Stay as nice as you are now and you'll never have any thing to worry about. maybe we can get together this summer before you leave (I hope so) will be good and take care of yourself.

God Bless you Always Willie
